Inspire the next generation of students
Applications are now open for UQ’s Engineering, Architecture and Information Technology (EAIT) Student Ambassador Team for 2021.

The way we can deliver our message might be different right now, but our purpose is not.

The University of Queensland is always actively creating new and innovative ways to reach out to prospective students about their university enquiries. This means we need a team of dedicated EAIT Student Ambassadors to represent our Faculty and promote our disciplines to future students, across a variety of different platforms.

Your role as a Student Ambassador will be to attend and assist with high school student engagement including UQ Open Day and various other high school career days and class presentations (whether that be virtually or face-to-face depending on Government restrictions). You will also be required to assist with digital content creation including social media takeovers and posts.

Be the face of UQ.

As an EAIT Student Ambassador, not only will you become the ‘face of UQ’ you’ll also have the important role of assisting prospective students on their journey to university.

Your role will enable you to:

• Develop your communication skills and expand your career networks.

• Be rewarded for your efforts. While some events are voluntary and fun, others are compensated.

• Receive references and recognition for your contribution to UQ.

• Gain credit towards a UQ Professional Practice Hours.

• Get involved in campus life and experience all the great things that UQ has to offer.

• Meet other like-minded students in your Faculty.

Most importantly you will be sharing your experiences and inspiring the next generation of engineers, architects, IT and computing professions.

How do I apply to become an EAIT Student Ambassador for 2021?

To apply, simply email ambassador@eait.uq.edu.au the following information:

• Maximum one page limit resume that demonstrated your suitability to the role. Please include any student societies you are involved with, what high school you went to and if you have received any scholarships at UQ.

• Documents can be sent in Word or PDF formats.

• Answers to following questions (500 word limit per question) as well as a photo of yourself.

  1) What do you study?
  2) Why did you choose to study at UQ?
  3) Why did you choose to study your discipline?
  4) What advice do you have for prospective students interested in studying your degree?
  5) What is your favourite place on campus?
  6) What do you love most about your degree?
  7) Why would you make a good EAIT Student Ambassador?
  7) Have you completed any work experience? If so, please briefly discuss what you did.

Important Dates.

• Applications close Monday 8 March 2021

• Group interviews will be held on the week commencing Monday 8 March 2021

• Successful candidates will be informed the week commencing Monday 15 March 2021

• A Student Ambassador training session will be held in March, date to be confirmed.

• Some weekend work will be required for this role including Saturday and Sunday 17-18 July for TSXPO and Sunday 1 August for UQ Open Day. A full list of event dates will be provided at the training session.

“I have loved being an EAIT Student Ambassador. Not only did the program help me develop my communication and leadership skills but I had the opportunity of meeting lots of new people.”
Frequently asked questions

How many hours am I expected to do for the year as an Ambassador?
There are no minimum required hours for an EAIT Student Ambassador however it is expected that you assist with Open Day and other event requests where applicable.

What if I don’t know the answer to a question asked by a student?
A lot of the answers to the questions asked by prospective students and their parents can be found in the EAIT Guide. However if you don’t know the answer to a question, the best option is to find a UQ Staff member to assist or write the question down with the student’s details and provide to a staff member to answer at a later date.

Will I get paid to be an Ambassador?
As an Ambassador, some events are voluntary based while others you will receive a thank you token for your time, you’ll also receive a UQ polo shirt and other UQ merchandise.

How many hours can I claim towards my Professional Practice Hours?
You can claim up to 20 hours under Category 16, type B hours.

Is there training conducted for Ambassadors?
Yes! The Faculty team will conduct a training session for all Student Ambassadors so you will have all the required tools needed to perform the role.

Contact Details:
Should you have any questions please email Helen Burdon, Engineering, Architecture and Information Technology Assistant Marketing Manager and Claire Cresswell, EAIT Senior Marketing Coordinator at:

ambassador@eait.uq.edu.au